DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, 3-6 and 8-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Vukosic. Vukosic discloses a vehicular lamp comprising at least one first LED light source (see figure 3) provided so as to face a rear of said vehicular lamp and reflector 30 that reflects light from said first LED light source forward of said vehicular lamp, said vehicular lamp further comprising at least one second LED light source (see figure 3) that faces a front of said vehicular lamp, said second LED light source being provided near a front side of a circuit board that supports said first LED light.. A transparent cover member (12) is provided near said front side of said second LED light source. The transparent cover member covers the circuit board (34) that supports said second LED. Regarding claim 3, the first and second LEDs are supported by the same circuit board (see figure 3). Regarding claims 4 and 8, the lens 12 is U-shaped in an arrangement direction. Regarding claims 5 and 9, the reflector is divided into two reflecting areas (22 and 24) by a boarder line that extends substaintially in the arrangement direction, each reflector area are divided into subreflective surfaces 28 and 30. Regarding claims 6 and 10, the LEDs are alternatively arranged (see figure 4)

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 1-5 and 8-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kawashima et al. Kawashima et al discloses a vehicular lamp comprising at least one first LED light source (42 and 43) provided so as to face a rear (as broadly claimed the side of the LEDs face a rear of the lamp) of said vehicular lamp and reflector (82) that reflects light from said first LED light source forward of said vehicular lamp, said vehicular lamp further comprising at least one second LED light source (41) that faces a front of said vehicular lamp, said second LED light source being provided near a front side of a circuit board that supports said first LED light.. A transparent cover member (5) is provided near said front side of said second LED light source. The transparent cover member (5) covers the circuit board (34) that supports said second LED light source and said circuit board that support said first LED light source. Regarding claim 2, the cover (5) has diffusive properties. Regarding claim 3, the first and second LEDs are supported by the same circuit board (see figure 2). Regarding claims 4 and 8, the lens 5 is U-shaped in an arrangement direction. Regarding claims 5 and 9, the reflector is divided into two reflecting areas (both sides of 82) by a boarder line that extends substantially in the arrangement direction, each reflector area are divided into subreflective surfaces 32f.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Vukosic in view of Suckow et al. Vukosic discloses the claimed invention except for the cover being made of diffusive material. Suckow et al teaches a LED warning lamp assembly which includes a cover that can be made out of translucent (diffusive) material (see column 4, lines 48-52). It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to substitute a diffusive cover as taught by Suckow et al for the cover of Vukosic in order to efficiently spread light to the lamp's surroundings.

Conclusion

1. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. English et al, Brun and Borner et al disclose lamp assemblies similar to applicant's invention.
